

Rabbis for Women of the Wall

רבנים למען נשות הכותל

January 20, 2011

Dear Deputy Foreign Minister Ayalon,

Thank you for all you do for the State of Israel, which we so dearly love and support. We represent over 600 rabbis, 85 cantors, 57 Jewish organizations, and 1000 individuals, whose names are on the attached letters.

We are deeply saddened by the shrinking size of the women's section at the Kotel, one of the holiest sites of our people, and we are gravely concerned that the plans for refurbishing the Kotel do not yet provide properly for Jewish women. There should be a section where haredi women and other orthodox and non-orthodox women may pray in silence. There should be a section for men where haredi and other orthodox and non-orthodox men may pray in accordance with their custom and out of earshot of kol isha. And there should be a section where women may raise their voices in prayer, wear a tallit and tefillin, read from the Sefer Torah, and be safe and within the law.

Clearly, our request is beyond architecture; we request a change in the law as well. Over eighty-five percent of Jews in the world and, indeed, more than half of the Jews in Israel, are not orthodox, and many who are orthodox do not support the silencing of women nor the shrinking of their section at the Kotel. All over the world, we turn in prayer to Jerusalem, and more specifically to the Kotel and Har HaBayit. The Kotel has become a place of holiness, holding the prayers of over two thousand years. Please do not ignore us. For the sake of your children and ours, please hear our call, and raise the matter of the Kotel's refurbishing as an issue of the Foreign Ministry, since it concerns all of our people, in all the places where we live.

Thank you for your consideration.
